

Fidelity Investment Advisors Limited
Databank Financial Services Limited & BusyInternet International request the pleasure of your company for the grand opening of

busyinternet

Africa's largest technology development center

guests of honor:

Jake Obetsebi Lamptey

Minister of Information and Presidential Affairs

Hon. Owusu-Adjapong

Minister of Communications & Technology

Ambassador Nancy Powell

United States Ambassador to Ghana

9.30am prompt
Friday, Nov 23rd

RSVP Tamara 258520 or (024) 384054

---

and the first 2-day festival for it*africa.org

the first ever exposition of over 50
of Ghana's specialist IT entrepreneurs, initiatives and services...

42 Ring Road Central, former Air Liquide Building next to Barnetts Furniture Store

see over...

what is BusyInternet?

BusyInternet is a joint venture between Ghanaian and American investors to create a series of state of the art technology incubators across Africa. By combining the latest infrastructure, facilities, satellite connectivity and power services, along with a social community of IT entrepreneurs and evangelists, BusyInternet seeks to become THE hotspot for the generation of new jobs, businesses, services and products related to IT across Africa. Each center boasts high-quality offices, training rooms, meeting rooms, conference facilities, copy centers, secretarial services, internet access and bar.

Accra is the prototype, and plans are already in place to launch other BusyInternets in Tunis, Lagos, Abuja, Dakar among other areas starting next year. This is the largest IT investment in Ghana. It is a high profile commitment to the future of Ghana's IT industry and the success of its private sector and global competitiveness. We are sure Ghana will lead the way for other African countries to participate in the new global opportunities.

what is ITAfrica?

ITAfrica is a database of IT experts and services. You can go online, find information about each IT company in your country, and even read what consumers are saying about each listing (it's free to be listed, and free to post comments). Many people think there aren't many IT resources in Africa; International and local organisations often find it easier to recruit from outside rather than find someone locally. ITAfrica is the first listing of African IT expertise, and the first to give consumers a voice.

To celebrate the launch of the website we're holding the first ever ITAfrica Fair, where IT entrepreneurs and solution providers can showcase their work. This is the first time in Ghana there has been an IT Fair focussed on solutions rather than products - come and see what Ghana's IT professionals can do!

- 2 day festival (free entry)
- over 50 of Ghana's top IT companies and services
  - meet entrepreneurs
- find IT solutions for your business